

Pipe Smoking is the real test of tobacco. It is the real way of smoking. You get more directly at the flavor and fragrance. You take the smoke cooler, and the taste is smoother and softer. Pipe smoking is smoking reduced to a fine art.

The mere question of adulterated tobacco forces itself on the attention of smokers, the more desirable it becomes to pipe presently what you are smoking. Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco has a guarantee, shows that it is Nature's own unadulterated product. Its fragrance, flavor, and unexcelled quality are derived from the soil and air. Try it and you will be convinced. None genuine with-out the mark of the Bull.

All excellent Fishermen and Sportsmen smoke Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco. It is the only one.

WALL STREET CRASH.

Scenes on Exchange Yesterday a Perfect Bedlam.

Everybody Making an Effort to Unload on His Neighbor,

While Stocks in Consequence Continue to Keep Tumbling,

And Firm After Firm is Driven to the Wall.

A Fearful Showing of "Dead and Wounded" Speculators.

CHICAGO TUMULTUOUS AND PITTSBURG AND PHILADELPHIA PANIC.

While Cincinnati and Boston Continue at the Old Stand.

The Falling Firms Are: Hatch & Foote, Nelson, Robinson & Co., East & Handt, Dyett & Co., J. S. Williams & Co., M. Bogart, Hotchkiss & Burnham, Donnell, Lawson & Simpson, and Metropolitan Bank of New York, Chas. M. Bayard, of Philadelphia, and State Bank of Danville, N. Y.

New York, May 15.—The following notice of the National Bank of Commerce, N. Y., will be seen by those who have been in the city since the crash of the stock market.

"We, Hatch & Foote, will settle with members of the Stock Exchange for stocks bought and sold, borrowed or loaned by us previous to this date.

"A. Dyett & Co., bankers and brokers, is just announced on the Stock Exchange. O. M. Bogart, stock broker, has just announced his withdrawal from the exchange. The stock market is panicky and declined 3/4 to 1 1/2 since the opening.

London and Nashville, Western Union and Union Pacific leading the list. A. M. Scriba, bank examiner, pronounced the failure of Marine National Bank perfectly safe.

STILL THEY COME. The failure of the National Bank is just announced on the Stock Exchange. The failure of Hatch & Foote is now announced on the Stock Exchange. The failure of Hatch & Foote and Nelson Robinson & Co. caused a considerable sensation upon Wall Street.

Handt & Randall, says the suspension of his house is mainly due to the troubles of Dyett & Co. Nelson Robinson says all active stocks in which he traded were sold out yesterday. Parties having these stocks on loan will receive their stocks all right.

Geo. J. Seney, president of the Metropolitan Bank, says Nelson Robinson & Co.'s accounts are all right. The failure of J. C. Williams, of Broad street, is just announced, and his stocks are being sold out to settle his accounts.

John W. Wheeler is appointed assignee of O. M. Bogart & Co. The suspension of the Metropolitan National Bank, at 109 Broadway, has just been announced. J. L. Seney is the president.

The doors of the Second National Bank at Twenty-third street and Fifth Avenue have been besieged since its opening by an excited crowd of depositors, frantic to withdraw their money. The lines of depositors, three deep, extend far into the street. Thus far the depositors have been paid in full.

THE DYETT SUSPENSION. New York, May 15.—The stock commission house of A. Dyett & Co., No. 30 Broadway, today drew checks on the Commercial Union Bank for $700,000. During the day the bank refused to certify some of these checks to the amount of $2,000,000 and this fact, in connection with the circumstances which led to its involving the names of John C. East and the Second National Bank, caused some excitement in banking and stock exchange circles. The present disclosures about the over certification of checks have made the banks cautious. Thus to-day the Continental declined to assume any risks for A. Dyett & Co., who have been old and heavy depositors. The principal reason to-day affected the credit of the Second National Bank of which John C. East is President. Mr. East's son, John C. East, Jr., principal owner of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, who is estimated to be several times a millionaire, has been speculating heavily outside and with several losses in the past few days. The rumors were that John C. East had involved the Second National to the amount of $2,000,000, and that the bank would have been obliged to suspend him and close the bank.

It was said that Mr. East made up the amount of his son's losses. When it became known that Dyett & Co. were in trouble, it was possible that John C. East was one of the principal customers of the firm, and this gave rise to further speculation. Several feeling given out, has been operating heavily. To take up its contracts, the firm was obliged to open up new lines of credit with the Second National to the amount of $2,000,000, because this large customer had failed to back them up. The checks were certified by the bank till the firm's deposit was exhausted. Then President Edward D. Randall refused to go any further, and the checks of Dyett & Co. were returned. The firm gathered every security available and sent them to the bank as security for their checks. The securities were worth $2,000,000. Still President Randall refused to certify the checks, and decided to hold them all as collateral. The cause of the panic among the creditors of the firm and owners of the securities. The scene at the bank was a lively one, and creditors crowded the front office. Among them were William H. East, Mr. Smith, of Janssen, Smith & Co., a law clerk served a notice on Cashing Taylor not to dispose of certain securities, which were the property of Blodgett & Co. It is understood the uncertified checks outstanding amount to $300,000. Hatch & Co. are said to hold $200,000; Wm. M. Patterson, $40,000; H. C. Kretschman & Co., $25,000; John Blodgett & Co., $20,000; Janssen, Smith & Co., $10,000; and Walter Nelson $10,000, and there are others. Dyett & Co. say they will deposit the necessary cash and the checks will be paid. They declined to make any statement in regard to Mr. East. He made a sweeping denial of all the reports. He said his transactions had been very small. He denied he had overdrawn an account at the Second National Bank. Mr. East and Mr. Blodgett, both creditors, declared that Dyett & Co. would probably be all right to-morrow.

The lobby of the Windsor Hotel was thronged to-night with excited brokers. Feeling of uneasiness was apparent. During the evening 500 shares of St. Paul common were sold at 12 1/2, which is 1/2 less than the closing price of the day before. The Directors of the Second National Bank were in secret session at a late hour to-night. It is said that Amos Enos will see that the bank loses nothing by his son's troubles, but will not settle any other liabilities. At midnight an official statement was issued by the bank that its losses had been made up by its stockholders and its capital was intact and the bank prepared to meet its obligations.

A FAILURE ON SWINDLING PRINCIPLES. ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 15.—A dispatch from Danville says: "The bank of Danville is very shaky. The exact condition, however, can not be ascertained. The bank is an old State institution and has been practically in suspension for some months. It has deposits estimated from $125,000 to $240,000, obtained largely from women and farmers. The bank was formerly a charter institution under State laws, but a few years ago it took the necessary steps to close as a State bank. It has since continued under the same name without responsibility of law. The public was not informed of the change in the business. Little general business has since been done, but deposits were received and sent to have been used in the paper manufacturing business of C. Woodruff, of Buffalo, the president of the bank. It is not known what will be liable to the depositors.

GOING GOLD'S BROKERS. New York, May 15.—Jay Gould's brokers, Wm. F. E. Smith and Co., today caused the arrest of a messenger of South & Co., brokers, on a charge that he obtained information from Gould's office and sold the stock of South & Co. to speculate advantageously. South & Co. have been very successful in the market. The messengers made $130,000 in less than an hour to-day on the short side. Mr. Conner on reaching the police station, withdrew from the complaint against the boy.

GRANT & WARD BOY BY ERIC. New York, May 15.—The Erie Railway Company has today caused the arrest of Grant & Ward to recover securities placed with that firm, the amount involved being said to be $200,000. The securities of Grant & Ward property has been attached in this suit.

PAID FOR $100,000. MORRIS, Ala., May 15.—Enlie Demott, the largest lumber mill owner at Moss Point, has failed, liabilities amounting to $100,000. A. Carriere, of New Orleans, holds a mortgage for $120,000. The old creditors are mostly loan and supply dealers who will get little. Q. E. Spotswood, a timber merchant of Mobile, is seriously involved by the failure.

RUMORS OF ENO'S RESIGNATION. New York, May 15.—At a late hour to-night it was rumored that President John C. Eno, of the Second National Bank, had resigned, and that James A. Trow, of the Commercial Union Bank, had been elected in his place.

MARKET RAGGED. New York, May 15.—The stock market is ragged, some stocks showing sharp recovery, others at the lowest prices for a moment. The failures have stopped for the moment, but the air is full of rumors of further suspensions. Few know for certain where they stand, and the situation is strained.

DOORS CLOSED. New York, May 15.—11:30 a. m.—The Metropolitan Bank has suspended. Its doors are closed. George Insey is President. O. M. Bogart & Co. assigned to John Wheeler. Preferences, $80,000. The stock of the bank is guaranteed by Nelson, Robinson & Co., a good delivery.

SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY FOLLOWS. It is true, and telegraphed to Washington ordering the immediate payment of the 12th call for bonds. If necessary he will order the suspension of the bank.

The failure of Hatch & Foote was preceded by the Phoenix Bank refusing to certify to the amount of $2,000,000.

CLEARING HOUSE MEETING. New York, May 15.—Noon.—A meeting of the Clearing House is called for 1:30 p. m. to-day to consider the financial situation.

The banks are crowded with anxious depositors. It is impossible to get near any one in authority. The financial complications of the past week, supplemented by the revelations regarding the stock market, have created a situation that at the opening of business on the Stock Exchange it was felt to be disastrous. Before long an actual failure after another was announced, until FIVE BROCK FIRMS HAD SURRENDERED. And the Metropolitan National Bank closed its doors.

President, George J. Seney, has been one of the most prominent speculators on the Exchange, and rated high. The failure of Hatch & Foote is likely to involve many other firms who hold accounts with many private bankers outside of New York, as well as individuals West and South.

Se-retary Folger, who is in the city, telegraphed to Washington to take up the 12th call of the 27th call on presentation. The result was not due until June 23. The Secretary further promises such steps as to relieve the present situation.

The Metropolitan Bank was $500,000 in the Clearing House this morning. CHICAGO TUMULTUOUS.

CHICAGO, May 15.—The session on "Change to-day has been a tumultuous one. The depression in Wall street had its visible reflection here and there was an accompanying downward tendency in stocks. A great break in prices occurred in the grain markets. The effect was particularly felt in the wheat pit, where the opening prices were nearly one cent under the lowest figures of yesterday. July wheat opened in the vicinity of 38c, dropped to 37c, then was sustained for a few moments, rose to 38c, but fell off again to 37c, and has since rallied to 38c. June ranges two cents under July. Corn has shown great firmness in comparison with day has been a tumultuous one. The price is now quoted at 59c, June pork is quoted at 87 1/2; July pork, 88 1/2.

STILL AT THE OLD STAND. CINCINNATI, May 15.—The failures in New York are received with considerable surprise and doubt that the crash is as disastrous as reported. Still, on "Change to-day a feeling of uncertainty was plainly noticeable. Mr. Benjamin Hopkins, of the Third National Bank, who is held as good authority in such matters, was approached by a Press reporter, and in reply to the inquiry, "What is the stability of the bank here, said that there was no room to question the condition of our home banks, where a few days ago speculative interest among business men and bankers here, "as a town" said he, "where frequently the stock market was in a panic, and the brokers of New York and Chicago, but to our credit, we are always able to weather such times like the previous ones."

It is set down that so far as Cincinnati is concerned, she will continue to do business at the old stand and by the same persons.

CINCINNATI, May 15.—The Third National Bank of this city had $25,000 in the suspended Metropolitan Bank of New York. Henry Camp, cashier of the Union City, speaks very hopefully, thus: "There is no telling what may happen if a run is commenced on the New York bank. Not one of them can stand a steady run until they can realize on their notes, etc. I do not expect trouble here, however."

GOULD PALE AND NERVOUS. New York, May 15.—Jay Gould, shortly before 11 a. m. to-day, came out of the Safe Deposit Company with Mr. Morris and clerk with a large canvas bag of securities. He looked pale, nervous, and appeared so much troubled that he was unable to parent to every one who saw him slowly walking down Broadway, his eyes looking forward with a vacant stare. His office was crowded with people who endeavored to get some sympathy out of him for the future.

It is a question as to what would be the result of these heavy failures, he slowly said, in words which he repeated several times: "I think it will be better."

In regard to the rumor that the firm of J. C. East & Co. was in trouble, Mr. Gould said: "There is not a word of truth in it."

Since the panic of 1873 has Wall Street never so perturbed as to-day. The alarming rumors current last night in regard to the Second National Bank and other concerns on an hour before the opening of the business exchange streets in the vicinity was dotted with crowds of brokers excitedly expressing opinions on the situation and speculating as to what the day would bring forth. The statement is published in the morning papers to the effect that President Eno, of the Second National Bank, resigned and that his father made good his debts to the bank. It is little to allay the fears of speculators, and the question of the bank's condition this morning was freely discussed. Many contended that in consequence of the Enos' resignation the bank would suspend. Others asserted that the bank would meet all demands. Rumors of impending failures were thick, and when the Exchange opened there was a PERFECT BUSH.

For admittance. In less time than it takes to tell it the leading brokers were crowded immediately on the announcement of the chairman of readiness to proceed with business, the order of the day was to the effect that prices at once began to decline, and with such rapidity as to cause most intense excitement. Brokers struggled, shouted, and vied with each other in an attempt to market stocks, and all efforts to keep order were fruitless. The board room was turned into

A VERITABLE BEDLAM. Messenger boys rushed to and from Exchange with messages from brokers and partners and others not privileged to the floor. Business was hardly begun when the order was made that a long line of depositors had assembled in front of the Second National Bank, and that a heavy run was fairly under way.

The suspension of Hatch & Randall, stock brokers was announced from the rostrum. Then followed the announcement of the suspension of the suspension of Nelson, Robinson & Co., O. M. Bogart & Co., J. S. Williams, and others. The suspension of the Metropolitan National Bank. When the last of these announcements was made, the scene in the room was beyond all description. Confusion prevailing, together with

THE NOISE OF A THOUSAND THUNDERBOLTS. All passengers attempted to stop him, and treated when he opened fire. A confederate was waiting with a horse and buggy and the motor made good his escape with the money.

BOSTON, May 15.—The Democrats of the Third District last night chose F. O. Prince, Secretary of the National Democratic Convention, and he and Patrick Maguire delegates to Chicago.

WAR ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION. New York, May 15.—The veterans of the Seventy-ninth Regiment celebrated the twenty-third anniversary of their departure to the war, with a banquet and a march to the Ashland House last night.

atives dropped. Since then there has been a slight rally, the selling movement having sensibly diminished and prices having more support, while at this hour the market is fewish and unsettled.

LATER.—It is announced that the Metropolitan Bank, a debtor at the Clearing House for $500,000. The Second National Bank continues to meet the demands of depositors in full.

One cause of the suspension of all the firms to-day was a fear that nearly all banks which brokers had accounts in would refuse to certify to more than the deposits of their customers.

A CAREFUL CANVASS. Of the principal houses and banks at this hour shows the worst has been passed, but the feverish and hesitating stock market may prevail for several days.

It is not true that Gould and Sage have quarreled. Bogart & Co.'s liabilities are placed at $500,000, and Hatch & Foote's at $300,000.

STILL THEY CRASH. New York, May 15.—The failure of Messrs. Hotchkiss & Burnham has just been announced. It is said that the failure of Charles M. Bayard, stock broker of Philadelphia, is announced by telegraph. The Metropolitan Bank remains closed, and there is no truth in the reports that the bank would resume.

Secretaries of the Clearing House now say money is plenty enough and all that seems to be needed is more confidence, and that seems gradually recovering.

HEY'RE ANOTHER. Donnell, Lawson & Simpson, bankers, 102 Broadway, have suspended payment.

BOSTON, May 15.—Bankers and brokers refuse to be forced into a panic, and no heavy holders of raised securities have lost their heads. It is said that Boston will make money in the end by the scare. Shrewd investors to-day are buying standard securities.

ASSIGNED. New York, May 15.—Hatch & Foote have made an assignment to J. C. East & Co. Reheley without preference. Hotchkiss & Burnham say their liabilities are only $300,000, and that the assets are twelve times greater. The calling of loans forced their suspension.

THE SCARE AT INDIANAPOLIS. INDIANAPOLIS, May 15.—There is considerable excitement here over the stock panic in New York. Apprehension was allayed when the discovery that neither the Metropolitan or Hatch & Foote have correspondents in this city.

AFTER SEVENTY YEARS. A LEVEE THROWN UP BY GEN. JACKSON GIVEN WAY TO THE WATERS. SHREVEPORT, La., May 15.—The Red River levee broke at Shreveport yesterday. It is now only three inches below the heavy March rise, and still rising. The weather is still threatening. The following was received from prominent planters: "By all means prevent steamers from coming this way. The levees will not stand the waves made by passing."

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—A crevasse at Manchac, twelve miles this side of Baton Rouge, closed today. The crevasse is about 100 feet wide, and the water is still rising. The levee was originally thrown up across the bayou in 1811 by Genl. Jackson when he was searching his men to New Orleans to fight the great battle. After seventy years it had its annual flood this levee has finally yielded to the weight of the water against it.

A HANDSOME PROFIT. No Reasons Here for Reducing the Wages of Miners. New York, May 15.—President Thomas Dickson made a speech at the opening of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company yesterday, in which he summarized the results of the company's operations since the year 1888, as follows: Tons of coal produced at the company's mines, 351,377,200; transported for others, 87,249,000; leaving net tonnage, 438,626,200; a fraction less than 10 per cent. on the capital stock. The balance sheet of the profits from the operation of the canal was $1,000,000. The company to have been $800,000. The old board of managers was re-elected.

WRECK ON THE B. & O. Fourteen Perish in the Flames and Many are Injured. PITTSBURGH, May 15.—Word has just reached here of a frightful wreck on the Baltimore & Ohio Road near Connellsville. It is stated that the cars took fire, and fourteen persons perished in the flames, besides many others who were seriously, and some fatally, injured. There are no particulars.

A Bold Robbery. PHOENIA, Ill., May 15.—Between eight and nine o'clock last night the Cashier of the Central City Railway Company, H. Cleveland, was robbed of a tin box containing the day's receipts of the company. He was bringing it down town from the car stable at the upper end of the city. A unknown man who was in the street near Cleveland a heavy blow in the back of the head with a bottle, rendering him temporarily insensible, grabbed the box and jumped from the car. A couple of H. Cleveland's attempts to stop him, and treated when he opened fire. A confederate was waiting with a horse and buggy and the motor made good his escape with the money.

BOSTON, May 15.—The Democrats of the Third District last night chose F. O. Prince, Secretary of the National Democratic Convention, and he and Patrick Maguire delegates to Chicago.

WAR ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION. New York, May 15.—The veterans of the Seventy-ninth Regiment celebrated the twenty-third anniversary of their departure to the war, with a banquet and a march to the Ashland House last night.
